

Updated Important Information:

Branch Reopening

As an organization whose mission is Solutions for the Real World, New Horizons Credit Union is committed to offering solutions as best we can during these troubling times. This is why we are working hard at New Horizons Credit Union to maintain business as usual.

All branches now offer full lobby service with safety precautions. Appointments are still encouraged for all branches to avoid extended wait times due to limited staff. Lobby service requires masks, social distancing, and all must agree to temperature checks. Further updates on branches will be posted here, as well as, on our social media. Please consider utilizing our free electronic services for faster account information and access. Your patience is greatly appreciated. Click here to view our appointment page.

In the News:

Stimulus Payment Deposits

There is some discussion in Washington DC about another round of Stimulus Funds. If this happens, it is our understanding that the Department of Treasury (IRS) will, again, release stimulus funds to those who qualify in the same method as done previously. If you filed your taxes electronically, your stimulus funds will be deposited by the IRS electronically to the account number and routing number you specified in your return information. If you requested a treasury check for your last tax refund, the IRS will mail a check to the address on your last return.

If you have questions about your IRS stimulus payment, we encourage you to visit IRS for more information and to see if you qualify to receive a deposit.

NOTE: New Horizons Credit Union is not able to determine when or if you will receive a payment.
